

Shaan Goswami Bio

Shaan is a Senior Vice President in the Natural Resources Investment Banking Group at Goldman Sachs in New York. Within Natural Resources, Shaan is responsible for advising clients in the Utility and Power industry on M&A and capital markets transactions, and has experience across the electric, gas and water sectors. He also spent time as a Vice President in the Industrials Investment Banking Group in London, where he was responsible for advising clients across EMEA.

Prior to joining Goldman Sachs in 2011, Shaan worked in the M&A Advisory group at Lazard (with experience in the Utility and Power industry) and also spent time as a member of the Investment Team at the International Finance Corporation (a member of the World Bank Group).

Shaan earned a BS in Commerce and BA in Economics from the University of Virginia.