

Emil Avram
Vice President–Business Development
Dominion Energy Virginia, Contracted Assets and Gas Partnerships

Emil Avram is vice president–Business Development. He is responsible for regulated and merchant generation business development, and gas partnerships business development.

Avram joined Dominion Energy in 2001 as a project manager in Power Generation. He was named manager–Power Generation Engineering in 2005 and senior business development manager in 2006. He became director–Business Development in 2008, director–Engineering Services in 2017, and vice president–Innovation in July 2018. He assumed his current post in December 2019 and added gas partnerships business development to his responsibilities in October 2020.

He serves on the board of the Center for Innovative Technology.

Avram received his bachelor's degree in aeronautical engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), his master's degree in mechanical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and his MBA from the University of Connecticut.